One of the country’s foremost woodwind artists, Chris Vadala is in demand as a jazz/classical performer and educator. He has appeared on more than 100 recordings to date, as well as innumerable jingle sessions, film and TV scores, performing on all the saxophones, flutes and clarinets. A native of Poughkeepsie, New York, he graduated from the Eastman School of Music, earning the honor of the Performer's Certificate in saxophone as well as a BM in music education, received an MA in clarinet from Connecticut College and pursued postgraduate study in woodwinds at Eastman.

Vadala, Director of Jazz Studies and Saxophone, is a UMD 2010-11 Distinguished Scholar-Teacher at the University of Maryland. Previous academic appointments include teaching studio woodwinds and conducting jazz ensembles at Connecticut College, Montgomery College, Hampton University, Prince George’s Community College and Mount Vernon College, as well as Visiting Professor of Saxophone at the Eastman School of Music, 1995 and 2001.
