Indelible Ephemera: Posters and Fliers from Special Collections in Performing Arts

Presented by the Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library

An audience's initial interaction with a concert, a new play or a choreographer's new dance piece does not always occur when performers first take the stage. Promotional posters and fliers—affixed to bare walls, stapled to telephone poles or handed out on the street—are often the first point of contact between an artistic work and audience members. In an 8.5x11-inch leaflet or a 27x40-inch poster, graphic designers distill the core of a new work in letterform and illustration. Indelible Ephemera celebrates these promotional materials, which were intended for short-term use but live on as artifacts of a performance, rich with enduring informational value. The exhibit highlights notable posters and fliers from the worlds of dance, theatre, popular music and punk rock. All materials are drawn from the Special Collections in Performing Arts (SCPA) at the Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library.

Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library

10AM-4PM

Presented by the Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library

From enormous posters for concerts by Bill Withers and Bonnie Rait to xeroxed punk fliers pulled off of telephone poles and gorgeous silk-screened advertisements for theatrical firsts, explore the art and design of posters in the performing arts at the Michelle Smith Performing Arts Library this Maryland Day. Posters and fliers from our Special Collections will be on display to exemplify design history. There will also be a printing demonstration and the opportunity for you to print and take home your own small flier commemorating the day. All the festivities will be scored by DJing from the archive as we play records from our collections live!
